

March Madness Bird Bracket Division 2

Fill out your bracket by choosing which species you think will win their game by having the most "sightings." Write the winning species' name on the next bracket line until you have two finalists. Star which species you think will win.

Keep track of the number of species you see. The one with the largest number of sightings wins their game. Circle the winning species' name on the bracket. Did you choose wisely? What species do you think you will see the most and will win March Bird Madness?
